INTRODUCTION

The University of Karachi (herein after referred to as the University) established in 1951 by the Parliament through the “University of Karachi Act, 1950”, as a Federal University, which was redefined later in 1962 as a University in the province of Sindh. Accordingly, with the passage of time it emerged as a prestigious national institution imparting quality education at the higher level.

The University was initially housed in a congested compound comprising of the few buildings situated at the old Princes Street near Civil Hospital. However, the polluted and congested environment of the area was not conducive to the academic and research activities required for a quality output. Considering the need, the authorities sanctioned a plot located on the Country Club road (now university road) expanded over an area of 1279 acres of land for this purpose.

Today, University of Karachi holds the status of an active academic community, dedicated to achieving excellence at all levels of higher education and research. This premier institution has emerged as a dynamic place, keeping pace with academic advances and changes occurring globally.

A number of scientists and scholars affiliated with the University are securing at important positions both nationally abroad. They have been acclaimed as active and dedicated members of society striving to bring positive change and development in the intellectual mindset of the people of Pakistan.

Considering the increasing number of applicants every year, the University initiated its Evening Program a few years ago at BS/Hons. and Masters Levels. An independent Directorate of Evening Program was set up in 1995 to deal with the matters pertaining to studies in the evening, including admissions academics and administration.

At present, the University of Karachi offers B.A.(Hons.) / B.Sc.(Hons.) / BS / BBA / B.Ed./ BPA(Hons.)/ BLIS / MCS / M.Sc. /LL.B/ LL.M / M.Ed. programs in six disciplines, which include the Faculties of Education, Law, Management & Administrative Sciences, Pharmacy and Pharmaceutical Sciences, Science and Arts & Social Sciences.

Being an affiliating and examining body, Karachi University has granted affiliation to almost 138 colleges and institutes. It conducts examinations of about 1,50,000 students studying in these colleges/ institutes, prepare their results and awards degrees.

The Karachi University Degree:

The degree awarded by the Karachi University is acknowledged globally and the University ranks throughout the world, among the Top Universities of the World, for the third consecutive year, according to the world's most prominent ranking agency, Times Higher Education and Quacquarelli Symonds (THEQS), UK.

To further strengthen the current standard of education & research, the University has also established a Quality Enhancement Cell in its main administration block. The prime objective of this Cell is to introduce self-assessment programs with a perspective to ensure quality education and research in all disciplines offered at the University.

As per recommendation of Higher Education Commission, University of Karachi introduced a four year BS program in 2007 abolishing its BA/BSc./B.Com. (Honors) programs. However, its Academic Council decided to offer both the programs concurrently. The admissions are announced in the following degree programs simultaneously:

Thriving as a research-oriented institution; the University offers courses that carry bear futuristic vision in all disciplines. This academic stance makes it easier for students to find a rightful place in the competitive job market at national as well as and international level.

Evening Program:

To cope with the growing demand of learning opportunities, University of Karachi initiated its Evening Program in 1995. The program was specifically designed for those knowledge seekers willing to continue or advance their education along side with their professional lives. Later, its facilities as well as academic and research output attracted other students as well.

The evening program is based on self-finance grounds basis and offers Bachelors and Masters Programs in various disciplines in the Faculties of Education, Law, Management & Administrative Sciences, Pharmacy and Pharmaceutical Sciences, Science and Arts & Social Science. Initially, the programs were started in a few departments of the University, however, later on many other departments joined in as well by extending their facilities and offering Bachelors and Masters Programs.

It is noteworthy that, the graduates of the Evening program are awarded degrees in the annual convocations. This way the students of the evening program stand in line with their morning fellows in terms of degrees acquisition as well. Both morning and evening programs follow the similar curriculum taught by the same faculty members.

In departments where laboratory experiments are a part of the offered courses, the evening program usually commences at 3:30 p.m., while in others, the teaching schedule is decided by the department's management as per the needs of the courses within the working hours of the Evening Program. These timings provide an excellent opportunity to in-service individuals intending to improve their academic qualifications for enhancing learning and career prospects. The admission process begins during the last quarter of the year through newspaper advertisements, while the classes for the first semester commence from January. All programs have two semesters per year with tuition fee payable in each semester. The classes are kept suspended during the Holy month of Ramadan.

Who Should Enroll ?

- ❖ All prospective students willing to join the University to accomplish higher education.
- ❖ In-service candidates keen to improve their qualifications and skills.
- ❖ No gender discrimination should be mentioned as no additional seats are offered based on it.
- ❖ Contrary to the morning programs of the University of Karachi, there is no restriction regarding the year of passing, nonetheless, the pre-requisite examination must have been passed from a recognized Institution / University.

Pharmacognosy

Introduction

The department of Pharmacognosy was established under the faculty of Pharmacy in 1973. Since its inception the department has served as the backbone for various branches of pharmaceutical sciences.

Pharmacognosy derives its origin from two Greek words, pharmakon(drug), and gnosis (knowledge). It is the study of natural bioactive substances obtained from terrestrial and marine plants, animals, microbes and minerals, for their physical, chemical, biochemical and biological properties, their taxonomy and ethnobiology. Pharmacognosy is one of the major areas of pharmaceutical sciences, an interdisciplinary science, linked to phytochemistry, microbial chemistry, biosynthesis, biotransformation, chemotaxonomy, biotechnology and other biological and chemical sciences. Research in Pharmacognosy has led to the discovery of lead compounds for drug development, new methods of analysis for drugs, toxins and herbal preparations.

The objective of the department of Pharmacognosy is to educate students about the natural sources of medicines, their pharmacognostic and phytopharmacological attributes, chemical and spectroscopic profile of isolated molecules and their development as modern pharmaceutical products.

During the past five decades it has collaborated with other departments to produce more than 5000 B.Pharm and about 1885 Doctor of Pharmacy graduates. The department of Pharmacognosy has always endeavored to promote higher education which has resulted in 60 M. Pharm, 55 M. Phil and 59 Ph.D. graduates. The active faculty members have collectively produced more than 28 books, and hundreds of research papers in well reputed journals at national and international levels.

Applied Physics

Introduction

The Applied Physics department was established in 1971 with the objective to teach and train students to meet the growing technological needs of the industries of Pakistan in the area of Applied Physics. Over the years emphasis has shifted toward Electronics and semiconductor technology because of the growing demand of technologically-advanced industries in Pakistan. The syllabus has been continually updated to keep abreast with the development in technology.

Our objective is to prepare students to meet challenges of the fast growing technologies in the field of Electronics and Semiconductors. The curriculum provides an in-depth understanding of the subjects such as Analog and Digital Electronics, Industrial Electronics, Semiconductor Devices, Communication systems including Microwave and optical fiber communications.

Microprocessor/Microcontroller and Digital Signal processors (DSP) are hubs of intelligent electronic systems including computers and almost all state-of-the-art equipment used in communications. Industrial and Medical applications also use these devices. A comprehensive scheme of study and application is provided for these subjects.

To teach practical aspect of electronics and give hands-on experience, laboratories have been equipped with latest equipment. Students are required to spend a considerable amount of time in the laboratories to develop an in-depth understanding of the subject they study in classes. For this purpose, separate laboratory courses are designed. The laboratory training begins with circuits related to basic Analog Electronics, progressively performing experiments on Digital Electronics, Industrial Electronics and finally developing a single board computer based on microcontroller. The students are also trained on Programmable Logic Controllers (PLC) through the use of software and hardware simulators. Similarly, they are trained in the field of communication using communication training kits.

Facilities

There has been a continuous up-gradation of laboratories in the department. In addition to general purpose laboratories where students perform experiments on circuits based on Analog and Digital Electronics, separate laboratories are established for training. These include Computer Laboratory which is equipped with latest computers connected through LAN. Communication Laboratory has trainers to train students on Microwave and Optical fiber communication systems. Programmable Logic Controller (PLC) is equipped with PLCs from Siemens and Ge-Fanuc.

Students use Software and Hardware simulators to develop and verify programs. Cargo lift, Conveyor belt and process models have been developed indigenously that are controlled by the PLC. Embedded systems laboratory is facilitated with software and hardware tools such as VHDL, Electronic Design automation to develop embedded systems. Computer Controlled (CNC) PCB prototyping machine, Logic Analyzer, FPGA and DSP kits are available for development of applications. Semiconductor Research Lab, has instruments such as thin film coating unit, CV analyzer, Spectrometer, Lock-In-Amplifiers etc. for research in the field of semiconductor.

The department of Biotechnology was established in 1996 by Professor Dr. Tashmeem F. Razzaki with an objective of imparting quality education in the multidisciplinary field of Biotechnology at graduate level. For many years this was the only Department across Pakistan offering graduate degree in the subject.

Biotechnology is the application of biological systems or processes to improve the value of materials or organisms for the benefit of mankind. Biotechnology offers technological solutions for many of the challenges facing the world ranging from curing of disease to xenotransplantation, nourishing the hungry to design newer food products, generating power to conserve energy, increasing magnitude to newer traits of crops, exploring metabolic prospective of microbes to exploit their potential, modeling of drugs to the development of regenerative and personalized medicine, conservation of cells to cryonics and recycling wastes to develop new bioscience products. To address these challenges, department laboratories are well equipped with state-of-the-art sophisticated instruments for the training of students.

Specific Research Areas

The department is engaged in different research activities i.e. protein purification, enzyme production, characterization and immobilization, cell and tissue culture, biotransformation and metabolomics, screening of microorganisms for industrially important metabolites and viral diagnostic research.

Botany

Introduction

The Department of Botany, University of Karachi was established in 1953. The University at that time was located at Chand-Bibi Road, near Civil Hospital, Karachi. When the University moved to its present premises on 18th January 1960, the Department of Botany was located in 2 barracks. The present building of the Department of Botany with laboratories, lecture rooms and an auditorium was constructed in the late 1960s.

The Department offers over 70 different courses at undergraduate, post graduate and Ph.D, levels to cater to the human resource requirements for teaching and research in the fields of education, agriculture, environment, NGOs, research organizations, pharmaceutical and other industries. In first and second year, the students start their studies taking Botany as a major subject together with 2 subsidiary subjects from other departments of the University.

In 3rd and 4th years, instead of the subsidiary subjects, they are required to study major subjects within the field of Botany. In M.Sc. Final, the students specialize in one of the branches of Botany which include: Applied Botany, Mycology & Plant Pathology, Plant Physiology, Plant Ecology, Phycology & Marine Botany, and Plant Taxonomy.

Facilities

The Department has well-equipped laboratories for undergraduate, graduate, post graduate studies and a vast collection of books and research papers in the Seminar library. It has also established computer lab for fast track searching of study materials. It provides facilities to students for research on topics related to different fields of plants sciences. Karachi University Herbarium in the Department of Botany has a vast collection of plant specimens collected from different regions of Pakistan, along with a large collection of specimens of algae and fungi. The department has established Shameel memorial library, Stress Physiology and Phenomics Center, Biosaline research lab and experimental field for research and productivity.

Specific Research Areas

Faculty members are working in six specialized fields of plant sciences and are endeavouring to enhance knowledge of the plant world. Following are the specific research areas:

1. Classical Taxonomy, Chemosystematics, Cytogenetics and Medicinal plants.
2. Plant Anatomy and Plant Tissue Culture.
3. Phycology, Marine Botany and Economic Importance of Seaweed.
4. Mycology, Plant Pathology, Fungal Biotechnology, Plant microbe interaction and Diagnosis of emerging and re-emerging plant diseases.
5. Plant Physiology, Plant enzymology, Biosaline Agriculture, Stress Physiology and Phenomics.
6. Plant Ecology, Dendrochronology and Environmental Pollution, and Halophytes utilization.

The teachers of Botany have completed about 50 research projects with the support of national and international funding agencies. Currently several research projects are in progress. More than 2500 research papers have been published in journals of international repute by the teachers and researchers of the department. The Pakistan Journal of Botany and International Journal of Biology and Biotechnology are also published from the Department of Botany, University of Karachi.

Chemistry

Introduction

The Department of Chemistry is one of the oldest Departments of University of Karachi. When the university was shifted to its present location, the department occupied one of the few newly constructed buildings and is still housed there for the last 67 years.

Chemistry is a noble central science which helps understand the origin of life and suggests ways to use non-living things for giving comfort to life. To train the young generation and to direct their approach to accomplish this task easily, it is necessary to make students understand the principles underlying the composition, structure and properties of substances along with the transformation that they undergo. It is therefore obvious that chemical orientation cannot be imparted in isolation and has to be developed through the knowledge of physics and biology on one hand, and engineering and applied sciences, on the other. The department of Chemistry, University of Karachi is well-prepared for pursuing this goal, having skilled and proficient faculty, well-equipped laboratories and other infrastructure.

Facilities

There are several libraries in the University of Karachi, which have books on Chemistry and related technical journals. These include Department of Chemistry's own Seminar Library. This library has a stock of about 10,000 books and research journals on various fields of Chemistry. The Department of Chemistry is equipped with many modern instruments for training students for challenging careers and research. These include, pH/Ion meters, conductometers, polarimeters, refractometers, potentiometers, electrochemical analyzers, HPLC, atomic absorption spectrometers, UV-Visible spectrophotometers, FTIR Spectrometers, Guoy Balance for magnetic susceptibility measurements, flame photometers, computers, deionizers, analytical balances, ovens, furnaces, centrifuges as well as a substantial stock of glassware and chemicals. A modern instrumental laboratory has been furnished to house the new atomic absorption spectrometers, HPLC, GC, GC-MS as well as some other modern instruments. These and other instruments were acquired through a generous grant of Rs.39.95 million provided by the Higher Education Commission. The Department of Chemistry has internet available in every research lab and office through a fiber-optic link.

Furthermore, the department also has a well-equipped computer lab for 45 students.

Specific Research Areas

Analytical, Inorganic, Industrial, Organic, Physical, Environmental, Pharmaceutical, Clinical and Polymer Chemistry.

Career Opportunities

Microbiology

Introduction

The Department of Microbiology was established in 1957 and was the one and only department in the field for many years in the country, offering undergraduate and postgraduate degrees.

Microbiology is a broad discipline with both basic and applied aspects. Therefore, microbiologists must have a good understanding about microbial taxonomy, genetics, immunology and physiology to identify these agents, explore their metabolic potential on commercial levels and to manipulate these organisms for the betterment of humanity. The study of microorganisms and their potential is also necessary for the production of bread, cheese, antibiotics, vaccines, vitamins and many other important products. Microorganisms are involved in causing serious infections in humans, animals and plants.

Because of the importance of the subject and its application, this department is now regarded as one of the best departments within the Faculty of Science. As a result, this department has become one of the popular departments and a large number of students choose to study Microbiology.
